

FACTIONS GET TOGETHER AT MEETING

TWO CAMPS IN PENINSULA BUREAU COMPROMISE THEIR DIFFERENCES AND PREPARE TO PUSH BRIDGE PROJECT.

That the meeting of the Peninsula Bureau at San Mateo last Friday night, at which two methods of building the Dumbarton bridge were the main points of discussion, was a victory for the South San Francisco faction, which demanded that the bridge be financed in San Mateo county, was conceded by practically everybody present. A large gathering attended the meeting, delegations being present from Daly City, Palo Alto, and every town between. The faction that demanded the bridge be built by San Mateo county money and its control kept in this county was led by Phil Thompson, president of the Civic League of San Francisco and prominent member of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, while the faction that wanted San Francisco to be allowed to help finance the undertaking was led by the president and secretary of the Bureau, J. J. McGrath and Daniel Imboden, who hold the same offices in the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce. The argument of the Thompson faction was that the bridge could be built by this county alone, and if made a toll bridge it would soon return to the taxpayers every cent of its cost and afterward would prove a producer of immense revenues for this county. After both sides had expressed their views, the fight centering around a resolution passed by the Bureau recently that the bridge be financed by San Mateo county, and a deadlock threatened, a committee was appointed that drafted a new resolution which was unanimously passed by the meeting. The outstanding feature of this resolution is as follows:

"Therefore be it resolved, that the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations undertake to finance the necessary survey provided by the board of supervisors of San Mateo county by resolution agrees to call a bond election upon securing final permission from the federal government to construct said bridge; such bond issue to provide (1) the funds necessary to its construction, (2) for the fixing of tolls necessary to pay the interest and redeem said bonds, and (3) that the actual money advanced due to the efforts of this organization be included as a part of the bridge and returned to those advancing same."

Another important matter taken up and sponsored by Phil Thompson was the urging on the Southern Pacific of the rerouting of a number of its overland and San Joaquin Valley trains that now have Oakland as their terminal, so as to bring them over the present Dumbarton railroad bridge and up the peninsula, making San Francisco the terminal. It was pointed out that this was a matter of the greatest importance to this region and would greatly relieve traffic congestion on the ferries between San Francisco and Oakland. With the aid of charts showing interior towns and their distances from San Francisco, Thompson in a convincing talk showed that the distances between these towns and the big city on the bay would be increased on an average of only three or four miles by the Dumbarton bridge route. A resolution calling on the railroad company to adopt the plan as set forth was unanimously passed by the meeting.

MAN SUSPECTED OF UNSOUND MIND HELD FOR OBSERVATION

A man giving the name of Anderson was taken up by local officers here Wednesday on suspicion of being of unsound mind. He walked into the office of E. E. Cunningham & Co. and, first declaring that all noise on the streets must be stopped, later stated that everybody was laughing at him. He was sent to Redwood City for observation as to his sanity.

SON OF PIONEER FAMILY IS KILLED

E. R. Goodspeed, Native of San Mateo County, Dies When Run Down by Automobile at Daly City.

E. R. Goodspeed of 128 Anita road, Burlingame, son of one of San Mateo county's pioneer families, died Tuesday evening at 8:30 at the South San Francisco Hospital as a result of injuries received when he was run down by an auto driven by Thomas Llewlyn of 835 Fairfield road, Burlingame. Examination at the hospital showed that the man's skull was fractured and his shoulder, one leg and one arm were broken. The leg had been nearly severed.

The accident occurred at Daly City while Goodspeed was in the act of walking across Mission street at Park avenue. Llewlyn stated that he sounded his horn and that Goodspeed stopped, hesitated, then seemingly becoming confused, stepped directly in front of the car. The driver immediately halted his car, and with the assistance of W. Oberlin, who was in the car with him, picked up the unconscious man. Llewlyn stopped to report the accident to the Daly City police, and at Officer Barney Hilton's directions rushed Goodspeed to the South San Francisco Hospital, where Constable Landini and a representative of the North End Progress of Daly City had preceded him to make arrangements for the injured man's care. Everything possible was done by Dr. Dolley to save the man's life, but his injuries were such that death was inevitable.

The deceased was the son of Dr. and Mrs. I. R. Goodspeed of San Mateo. He was a native of San Mateo county, having been born at Pescadero forty years ago, and had lived in this county all his life. He was at one time city treasurer of San Mateo. Besides his parents and wife he left five children. The body was removed to San Mateo.

DR. AND MRS. MCGOVERN ENTERTAIN OVER WEEK-END

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. McGovern entertained over the week-end at their summer home near Halfmoon Bay the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haaker, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holston, Mr. and Mrs. J. Zaro, and George A. Kneese.

FIRE, NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ALARMS WEDNESDAY

No, dear reader, there was not a fire in town Wednesday morning when the alarm sounded several times. The alarm was caused by a mixup of wires near the Southern Pacific depot, where some telephone linemen were working. The alarm did its duty, but had no fire to show for all its noise.

AUTOS COMING WEST IN TRAINLOAD CONSIGNMENTS

Ordering automobiles in trainload lots seems to be the favorite pastime of Pacific Coast automobile distributors just now, according to a report from the Southern Pacific Company's freight department to the effect that five trainloads of cars are on their way from Eastern manufacturing points to California over the company's lines.

Four trainloads of Dodge cars, each train being composed of forty carloads, have left Detroit for California, two trains coming over the Southern Pacific's Ogden route and two over the company's Southern route by way of El Paso. The first two trains are coming to Oakland and the other two to Los Angeles.

A solid train of eighty-five carloads of Overlands is on its way from Toledo to California, this shipment being routed over the Southern Pacific via El Paso. This is an unusual number of cars in one shipment, and it was suggested when the train left Toledo that it would be a good idea to supply an extra Overland car for the train crew, in which to travel from the caboose to the "head end" of the train.

The carload distribution of the Overland shipment is seventy-two carloads to Los Angeles, eleven to San Francisco, one to Phoenix, and one to Santa Barbara.

SAN MATEO APPROVES SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Grammar School District Gives Bond Project Vote of 13 to 1.

The residents of San Mateo grammar school district registered an emphatic vote in favor of better school facilities Monday, when they passed a proposition to issue bonds in the sum of $200,000. The vote in favor of the bonds was approximately 13 to 1. The bonds will be issued in denominations of $1000 each and will draw 6 per cent interest. The money from their sale will be used as follows:

1. To build a new school in the vicinity of Poplar avenue and D street.
2. To provide new rooms and larger grounds for the Homestead school.
3. To build a new modern building on the present Central school grounds or on grounds centrally located.
4. For improvements and enlarged grounds at the Lawrence school.

PENINSULA BODIES URGED TO BOOST FOR ALAMEDA

Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations of all peninsula cities were invited to attend a luncheon held in San Francisco by the San Francisco Commercial Club for the purpose of organizing a boost drive to secure the main Pacific Coast naval base for Alameda.

Invitations were also issued to all San Francisco organizations which have endorsed Alameda as the site for the naval base, and to Congressmen Julius Kahn, John I. Nolan, Arthur M. Free, and J. Arthur Ellston.

Following a visit from a congressional committee sent to the Pacific Coast early in the year for the purpose of recommending a site for a main Pacific Coast naval base, and the presentation of the claims of all different sections, a recommendation was made to congress that the base be constructed at Alameda. San Francisco, Mare Island, and San Mateo were all strong contenders for the recommendation, but the committee decided that Alameda was the best fitted. San Mateo presented a strong case through the efforts of Mayor Thomas J. Brady and a committee appointed by him, which committee spent much time in gathering data and secured the services of J. J. Dwyer, former member of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, to present the San Mateo project to the committee.

Alameda was the choice, however, and bowing to the recommendation of the committee the different communities expected to see the construction work well under way at that point long before this. The matter was held up in Washington, however. It is now proposed to all get together and work for the location of the base, which is greatly needed on the Pacific Coast, according to the statement of those high in the navy, at the site in Alameda in accordance with the recommendation.

WOMAN IN JAIL FOR ILLEGAL OPERATION

Mrs. R. Schumacher of Daly City Taken for Operation on Mrs. Soter.

As a result of a charge of performing an illegal operation upon the person of Mrs. Edith Soter of Healdsburg, Mrs. R. Schumacher, a midwife of 416 Santa Barbara avenue, Daly City, has been lodged in the county jail at Redwood City. Mrs. Soter is now in the San Francisco Hospital in a critical condition. In the event of her death, District Attorney Swart has stated a charge of murder will be placed against the midwife, known locally as Madam Schumacher.

Mrs. Soter was taken to the hospital last Saturday, and immediately afterward Constable S. A. Landini was called to the hospital to take her statement. Following this statement Mrs. Schumacher was taken into custody, and Landini paid a visit to the home of Mrs. Soter's mother-in-law, Mrs. Teresa Soter, where, according to his statement, he found Mrs. Soter preparing for a hurried departure. Mrs. Soter elder was also taken to Redwood City, and may be held as a witness and possibly as an accomplice.

In a statement to District Attorney Swart, Mrs. Schumacher declared the operation on Mrs. Soter had been performed before she was called in, and that she merely did what she could to relieve the patient.

P.T. ASSOCIATION FEDERATION HOLDS MEETING AT LOMITA

The San Mateo County Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations held a well-attended meeting last Friday afternoon at the Lomita Park school. Representatives from practically every club in the county were present and told of their activities. An attractive program was presented by the children of the Lomita Park school. Mrs. J. Ledwith presided.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Davis and her club members served delicious home-made cakes and coffee at long tables prettily decorated with huge masses of pink and white cosmos. The invitation of the Oak Grove Club to enjoy the hospitality of that group was accepted, and the 18th of November was announced as the date of the meeting.

Robert and Gordon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Scott, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Flagler in Oakland. Mrs. Flagler and son, William, spent Thursday at the Scott home.

C. OF C. URGES SCHOOL GROUND IMPROVEMENT

Wants Lawn and Trees at Hi School; to Arrange Lecture on Community Center Work Here Soon.

A large gathering of Chamber of Commerce members greeted President J. C. McGovern Tuesday evening when he called the meeting to order at the city hall.

The first communication taken up was from the South San Francisco Woman's Club and related to the delivery here of a lecture by Mrs. Caroline L. Fiedler, a social service worker, now in charge of the community center at Halfmoon Bay. The Woman's Club asked the Chamber to fix a date for a lecture in this city, and Secretary H. E. Smith was instructed to arrange a date which would be convenient for Mrs. Fiedler. The lecture will probably deal with the work of community centers in other towns and may lead to the establishment of such a center here.

One of the features of the evening was the improving of the school grounds in this city with trees and lawns, especially that of the high school. It was decided to ask the co-operation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Club in taking this matter up with the school trustees.

Two other subjects pertaining to municipal improvement discussed were the putting in on Grand avenue of an electroliner system of street lighting and the passing of a city ordinance, such as many other cities have, which makes it mandatory on vacant lot owners to keep their property clear of weeds. The secretary was instructed to address a letter to the city trustees, urging them to pass a weed ordinance for this city. In the matter of better street lights, it was pointed out that practically all the larger towns now have the electroliner system or are in the process of installing such systems, and this city should not be behind other towns.

A special committee was appointed to co-operate with representatives of the Peninsula Bureau when they appear before the San Francisco supervisors next Monday afternoon to further plans to urge upon the Southern Pacific the diverting of many overland and San Joaquin Valley trains over the Dumbarton bridge into San Francisco. E. C. Peck, Andrew Hynding, F. A. Cunningham, and Dr. J. C. McGovern were placed on this committee.

A circular letter from Postmaster-General Will Hayes drew the attention of all business men to the fact that a reorganization of the Postal Department was under way to place it upon a strictly business basis, and their co-operation was asked. Secretary Smith was instructed to answer this letter and call the attention of Mr. Hayes that a plan was on foot to make the local postoffice an independent office and to urge that he get in touch with Senators Johnson and Shortridge and Congressman Free and give this project his support.

Judge E. F. Cunningham brought up the matter of the Peninsula Bureau passing a resolution urging the federal government to build a permanent hospital at Palo Alto, and, on Judge Cunningham's motion, the Chamber passed a similar resolution, copies of which will be sent to the California senators and Congressman Free.

The committee recently appointed to interview S. P. officials with the object of getting train service between this city and San Francisco at about 1 o'clock p. m. for the benefit of local factory workers, stated they had been working on the project but were not yet ready to report.

It was brought up that the telephone company would be ready in a few days to render a report on its work of establishing additional equipment at the local office and giving a lower toll rate to San Francisco, and that when this report was made there was every indication it would be highly satisfactory to the residents of this city.

Byrne McSweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McSweeney, is taking a vacation from school because of trouble he has been having with his eyes. Byrne has been attending Santa Clara College and has been making a reputation in scholarship and in his work in musical circles.

S. F. BOARD MAY HELP IN RAIL FIGHT

CITY SUPERVISORS TO MAKE RE-ROUTING OF TRAINS OVER DUMBARTON CUTOFF SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS MONDAY.

The meeting of the San Francisco supervisors next Monday afternoon will be interesting and important from the standpoint of all dwellers on the peninsula, and especially to the members of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce. At that meeting the consideration of the proposition to make San Francisco the rail terminal instead of Oakland for overland traffic and for trains from interior points in California over the Southern Pacific lines will be taken up as a special order of business. It seems probable that this plan, which is the outgrowth of the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Peninsula Bureau at Phil Thompson's suggestion, will receive the hearty support of the San Francisco supervisors, and a large delegation of Bureau members is expected to lend force to the plan.

That the Southern Pacific Company does not intend to thus reroute its trains without a struggle, is indicated by reports that a delegation of railroad officials will also attend the meeting and speak against the adoption of a resolution supporting the project. At present it seems certain that the San Francisco board will pass a resolution requesting the S. P. to divert more passenger traffic over the Dumbarton cutoff, and if it refuses to do so, that the matter will be taken to the Railroad Commission. If this is done, the board may help the Peninsula Bureau to finance the fight.

It is reported that the railroad company may urge the impending rail strike to show that this is an inopportune time to urge changes in service, and also that inadequate rail facilities on this side of the bay make the rerouting of trains inexpedient. If the latter argument is brought forward, it may be used against the railroad for reopening the fight for the electrification of the S. P. lines on the peninsula.

PHILLIP PIFFIRO GOES TO JAIL FOR FOUR MONTHS

Phillip Piffiro, who lives at 318 California avenue, was sentenced to spend four months in the county jail when he appeared before Judge E. E. Cunningham in the city recorder's court Tuesday morning on a charge of beating Mary Pappas. The man was arrested last Friday night. When brought into court he cheerfully admitted his guilt. The woman, who has kept house for Piffiro for several years, was in court and bore many marks of the fray, being hardly able to see out of one eye.

Recently Judge Cunningham held Peter Grassi, accused of robbing the Steelworkers' restaurant, to answer to the superior court. His bail was fixed at $2500, in default of which he was taken to the county jail.

Mrs. J. J. Fourcans is in the South San Francisco Hospital, where she underwent an operation Monday.

CHINESE DECLARES BROTHER CELESTIAL ROBBED HIM

The hand of the police fell on the shoulders of So Hoo Foo, one of the men accused by Wing Sing Fat of having entered his place of business on Railroad avenue, San Mateo, a week ago and robbed him of $60. Fat identified Foo in front of Chief of Police Burke, and the man was taken before Judge George Kertell for arraignment. After confessing to the crime, Foo claims he was assisted by Wing Tong, who has since been located in Stockton. Foo's bail was set at $1000 bonds or $500 cash. He was unable to furnish bail and was remanded to the county jail in Redwood City, pending trial and the arrival of his partner in the robbery.

Chief Burke expects to bring Tong to San Mateo, when he will be taken before Judge Kertell for arraignment.

INTERESTING NOTES FROM COLMA COMMUNITY CENTER

Monday books were received from the following: Miss Theresa Stampantoni, three; Mrs. Louis Lagomarsino, two; Mrs. Earl Jones, five, and Mrs. A. E. Ver-Linden, thirty-two. Mrs. Woolsey states there is now a full set of forty "United Editors' Perpetual Encyclopedias" and ten volumes of the "Messages and Papers of the Presidents." Among the collection that the Girls' Club of Colma brought are "The Best Plays of 1919-1920," by Burns Monte; "The Americanization of Edward Bok," by Edward Bok; "Fifty Contemporary One-Act Plays," by Shay and Loving. The girls are determined on a good library. Twenty-seven volumes of "Ingressive Medicine" have been donated by W. J. Mowry.

More shelves were built last week at the library by B. S. Greene in order to afford room for the books that are being brought in.

Tuesday evening the Ladies' Home Club of Colma held its regular business meeting at the Community Center building.

Mrs. Godfried of San Francisco visited the Girls' Club at its club rooms on Dunk street last Thursday evening. Mrs. Godfried, representing the United States naturalization department, gave the club a very interesting lecture.

Members of the Colma Community Center are notified to attend the annual meeting called for next Monday evening, October 31st, for the purpose of electing three directors.

COLMA PAYS TRIBUTE TO ONE OF WAR'S HEROES

On Sunday afternoon, October 23d, one of the largest funerals Colma has ever witnessed took place at the Italian Cemetery, when the body of Antonio Morchio, war hero, was laid at rest. Antonio Morchio, or "Tony" as he was familiarly called, was one of the most well known and best loved of Colma's boys, having resided in this community for years. He was employed at the Colma Meat Market for eleven years, making his home with the Arminio family up to the time he left to answer his country's call. Tony was possessed of a kindly and genial disposition which had endeared him to all, and the news of his death came as a shock to the community. Tony made the supreme sacrifice at the Argonne Forest on September 27, 1918.

The funeral was conducted under the auspices of Court Colma No. 83, Foresters of America, and with military honors. At Holy Angels' Church services were read by the Rev. Father Houlihan, pastor of the parish. After the services the body was escorted to the cemetery by the members of El Carmelo Parlor No. 256, Native Sons of the Golden West, of Colma, and Court Colma No. 83, Foresters of America.

An eloquent and touching oration was delivered by Professor W. J. Savage, and the Foresters' services were read by Henry Fuchs, Adolph Bertini, Leo and Eugene Graziani, after which taps were sounded. The honorary pallbearers were: William Ottoboni, Colombo Benedetti, and Louis Wohlers of El Carmelo Parlor No. 256, Native Sons of the Golden West, of Colma; Nelo Borsi, Edward Bocci, and Justin Tossaro of Court Colma No. 84, Foresters of America. The numerous and beautiful floral offerings attested the popularity and high esteem in which the deceased was held. To his sorrowing sisters are extended the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. They are Mrs. Eva Maloof and Mrs. Rose Maccario of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Josephine Molinari and Miss Alvera Morchio of Colma.

U. A. O. D. WHIST SUCCESSFUL

Tuesday evening, October 18th, Cypress Circle No. 14, U. A. O. D., held a successful whist party at Jefferson Hall. Refreshments were served after the whist. Prize winners were: Mrs. E. Berry of Daly City, first; M. W. Beasley, second; Carl F. Jones, third; Mrs. J. C. Witt, fourth; Robert Herringer, fifth; Ed Bauer, sixth; Mrs. John Fischer of South San Francisco, seventh, and consolation prize, Manuel Silva.

Farsighted.

A railway employee was in the witness-box, and was being cross-examined by a very self-important young lawyer about a case which had resulted in a damage suit as the consequence of an accident on the railroad.

"You say that you saw this man fall from the train?" said the lawyer.

"I saw him fall, yes," replied the railway man.

"Yet it was nighttime," insisted the lawyer, "and you were at one end of the train and the man at the other. Do you expect an intelligent jury to believe such a yarn? How far can you see at night?"

"About a million miles," I think," replied the railway man. "I can see the moon. How far is that?"

The lawyer retired. — Pittsburgh

OLD CARLYLE HOUSE

OF SURPASSING interest, because of its unmatched historical associations, is the venerable home of John Carlyle, who came to America as collector of customs for the British Crown.

It is located near the Potomac river in Alexandria, Virginia, which settlement was at that time a sort of American headquarters for the British empire. It was built in 1752, on top of an old fort which it is thought was constructed about the year 1800.

Solidly built of cut stone which it is believed was brought from England, the walls of this two-story-and-basement house are wonderfully well preserved and much of the interior furnishings remain but little unchanged from the days when this was the scene of much old-fashioned hospitality.

In the hallway stands a slender, grandfather's clock which for more than a century recorded the passing of time. Upstairs is the ancient canopy bed, so high that a step was necessary to enable one to comfortably climb into it, in which slept General Braddock who was sent to this country to take charge of the British forces during the French and Indian wars.

It was in the blue-room of this mansion that the celebrated and historic Council of the Governors of the Colonies was held, which contributed so much to the growing discontent that later expressed itself in the Revolutionary war.

General George Washington frequently visited here and it is said that his commission as commander in chief of the Colonial army was handed to him in this house.

War is a funny thing. We kill our enemies so they can't fight us again, and after we've won we feed those of them that are left so they can fight us again.

The well-springs of real charity never bubble from a subsoil of fake piety.

Then there is the kind of man who would rather argue and lose than not to argue at all.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER COMPANY

How to make it

Use level measurements for all materials

1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1/2 orange
1 egg and 1 yolk
2 1/2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 cup milk
1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 oz.) of unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening. Add sugar and grated orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together flour, salt and Royal Baking Powder and add alternately with the milk; lastly fold in one beaten egg white. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the chocolate. Put by tablespoonfuls, alternating dark and light batter, into three greased layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

FILLING AND ICING

3 tablespoons melted butter 2 tablespoons orange juice
3 cups confectioner's sugar 1 egg white
(Powdered sugar may be used but does not make as smooth icing) 3 squares (3 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate
Grated rind of 1/2 orange and pulp of 1 orange

Put butter, sugar, orange juice and rind into bowl. Cut pulp from orange, removing skin and seeds, and add. Beat all together until smooth. Fold in beaten egg white. Spread this icing on layer used for top of cake. While icing is soft, sprinkle with unsweetened chocolate shaved in fine pieces with sharp knife (use 1/2 square). To remaining icing add 2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate which has been melted. Spread this thickly between layers and on sides of cake.

DAD

He may wear a last year's straw hat, his finger nails may need manicuring; his vest may hang a little loose, and his pants may bag at the knees; his face may show signs of a second day's growth, and the tin dinner bucket he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't you call him "the old man." He's your father.

For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth bar none, even though you plaster your hair back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes, and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth, your mother.

He is "some" man and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did, you will have to go some, boy.—The Silent Partner.

WHO MAKES THIS TOWN?

It isn't any one man, or a half dozen, or dozen. It is every person in the town, as well as those who make a practice of coming to the town.

We have citizens who are so modest and retiring that they imagine their influence is of no value, or has no weight—that it makes no difference to the town what they do or do not do.

They are mistaken.

We have become so accustomed to the progressive citizen that we expect to hear from him on any subject of any importance. We would be more or less nonplussed if he did not come to the front.

But it is the action of the quiet and retiring element that adds impetus and puts real life into a movement for civic improvement. They may not be leaders, but when they get behind and push the weight is so great there is no such thing as a premature halt.

Little wavelets lapping up on the seashore always precede the great tidal wave that sweeps everything before it.

It is so in community life.

In each community there are a few who are always promptly active in every good movement. They are the little waves that never rest, that are ever creeping up on the beach, advancing and receding, incessantly on the move until they create the great wave of public sentiment that moves irresistibly on to victory and achievement.

It is the mass of quiet citizens who constitute the bulk of that public achievement. It is the citizen who possibly thinks that his own individual opinion has but little influence upon community life. It is the one who acts after others have talked.

You who read these lines, therefore, are one of the number who make this town. You are expected to aid in making it even a better town. You can do it, if you will.

TOO BIG BUSINESS

Rockefeller is presumably the richest man in the world. His wealth is so great that even he can not estimate it. Yet every day sees him a richer man.

Henry Ford, a poor man a few years ago, is now said to be worth $250,000,000 or more, all accumulated within a few years. Henry is still grinding out lizzies and raking in the pennies.

The number of our plutocrats is so great that their combined wealth is staggering, and still they multiply in both numbers and wealth.

The war brought enormous wealth to this country, but the great majority of it went into the swollen coffers of the minority. The majority were permitted a sniff.

Some say that we are cursed with big business. But that we do not concede. It is because of big business that this is a big country.

But there is such a thing as TOO BIG BUSINESS.

When a concern reaches proportions where it can dominate everything in its line and regulate prices without regard to competition or the law of supply and demand, it ceases to be a national asset and becomes instead a burden to the people. It is too big to be safe.

The war brought enormous wealth to this country, but the great majority of it went into the swollen coffers of the minority. The majority were permitted a sniff.

Some say that we are cursed with big business. But that we do not concede. It is because of big business that this is a big country.

When a concern reaches proportions where it can dominate everything in its line and regulate prices without regard to competition or the law of supply and demand, it ceases to be a national asset and becomes instead a burden to the people. It is too big to be safe.

The great wealth that thus passes into the hands of a limited number simply reduces the amount in the hands of the mass of the people. As the few become bloated the many become emaciated.

Congress should no longer shrink its plain duty to the people. It should place a limit upon the income which any one man may enjoy. It should confiscate every dollar of that income above the limit in the form of taxation and thus reduce the burden which rests so heavily upon the shoulders of people who can ill afford it.

Big business should be protected and regulated.
Too big business should be prohibited.

There is a vast difference between Henry Ford and the other railroad magnates of the country. Henry has taught them how to reduce freight rates without reducing their net incomes, but they persistently refuse to be taught.

Doctors and undertakers are adepts at facial control. They compliment you on your good health with a smiling countenance, while knowing at the time that it is keeping them out of a fat fee.

The winsome maiden dreams of the time when she will marry a millionaire, and as a mature woman she longs for the day when she will no longer have to break her back over a washtub.

It would be wholly impracticable to attempt to adequately punish every man who commits a sin. There wouldn't be enough punishment to go around.

The judge requires a witness to take an oath before telling his story, but if he tears off a few during the operation he gets it in the neck.

The bald-headed man is not always to be pitied. Perhaps his head is so full of brains there is no room left for hair to germinate.

Look into the home life of the fellow who claims that nothing ever worries him. Possibly his wife is earning the living.

The country is said to be undergoing a period of readjustment. We have progressed as far as the first syllable.

Every procession has a head and a tail. Where do you march?

Stories of Great Scouts

SIMON KENTON, THE AMERICAN MAZEPPA

Second only to the name of Daniel Boone—whose life he once saved—is written in the annals of Kentucky the name of Simon Kenton. Kenton was a Virginian who served as a scout in Lord Dunmore's war shortly before the outbreak of the Revolution and who crossed over the mountains into the "Dark and Bloody Ground" of Kentucky in search of adventure. His exploits there soon won for him the undying hatred of the Indians and no less than eight times he was captured by them and sentenced to death.

In 1778 Kenton with two companions went north into Ohio to spy upon a tribe at war with the whites. While returning, they came upon a herd of Indian horses. The Kentuckians resolved to take some of the animals along as trophies of the successful expedition. The Indians quickly discovered the theft and overtook the scouts just before they crossed the Ohio river.

One of the Kentuckians was killed, another escaped but Kenton was taken prisoner.

"You steal Injun hoss?" they taunted him. "All right, we give you ride on him!"

So they tied the scout on a wild young horse and set it free in the forest. He finally was taken from the horse's back more dead than alive.

At the first village the Indians reached, they condemned the scout to run the gantlet. When the signal was given, Kenton sprang through the line of warriors, armed with clubs and hatchets, and reached the council house, his goal, almost untouched. Near Zanesfield preparations were made to burn him at the stake, but the arrival of Simon Girty, the "white renegade," who recognized Kenton as an old friend, saved him.

His freedom was short-lived. Three weeks later the Indians again voted to put him to death. Again he was saved by a friend—Chief Logan, the noted orator of the Cayugas. When the Sandusky towns were reached, the Indians held a council and once more decreed the death penalty. Kenton was tied to the stake. Just as the torch was being applied, a British officer appeared and demanded the surrender of their prisoner to his commander at Detroit.

Kenton was kept captive in Detroit until 1779, when through the aid of an Indian trader's wife he escaped to Kentucky where he died in 1836.

CITY TRUSTEES IN REGULAR SESSION

Election Officers Appointed; Railroad Co. Demands Payment for Signal; Time Extended on Paving.

The city trustees met Wednesday night, with all members present.

City Attorney Davis officially notified the board that the appellate court had decided the water case in favor of the city and the action taken by the majority members of the board.

On motion of Trustee Smith, a vote of thanks was given the city attorney for his services in connection with this matter.

Building permits were granted to August Lund, Prosper Bou, and Mrs. Doherty, but the application of William Scheerer for permission to erect additional chicken houses on his lot in Third Addition was refused.

The United Railroads sent in a communication asking the board to settle the account for some $944 the company claims for the installation of the wigwag signal on Angus avenue, otherwise steps would be taken to enforce payment. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Next came the recall election, and the four election precincts as now established were consolidated into two voting precincts, with the fire hall and California Hall as polling places. The following election officers were appointed: Precincts 1 and 2 consolidated—Inspector, Harry Grady; judges, Mrs. Weidemann and Mrs. Mathiesen; clerks, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Venable and Mrs. Laumeister. Precincts 3 and 4 consolidated—Inspector, Mrs. Nerny; judges, Mrs. Traeger and Mrs. Denery; clerks, Mrs. Ballamy, Mrs. Burns, and Mr. Levy.

Trustee O'Connor, chairman of the committee arranging for a float to represent San Bruno at San Mateo Armistice Day, asked the board to donate something toward the expense of constructing same, and the board unanimously passed a donation of $25, to be used if necessary.

The contemplated traffic and sign-board ordinances were postponed until after the election on the 18th of next month.

The Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce sent in a communication asking the board to endorse the application made to the Southern Pacific, requesting the routing of trains for the north over the Dumbarton cut-off. It was voted this matter go over till next meeting.

The stage line operating Pickwick buses between San Francisco and San Jose notified the board that, on November 1st at 10 a. m., before the Railroad Commission, it would make an application for permission to withdraw from local traffic between San Francisco and San Mateo.

Trustee O'Connor reported all debris had been removed from creeks running through the city, and that he did not anticipate danger of flooding the coming winter.

Permission was given to Treasurer Cunningham to purchase a suitable safe for the sum of $150.

The Municipal Improvement Company sent in a request asking for a further extension of forty-five days for the completion of street work now being done under resolution No. 750, which was granted.

The matter of the San Bruno Park street improvement went over till November 23d.

Superintendent Knight, according to Mr. Glasscock, is now in charge of the evening school, and rowdiness on the part of a few of the older boys has been stopped.

Y. M. I. WHIST DRIVE.

The Young Men's Institute of St. Bruno's Church held a very successful "whist drive" at the parish hall last Saturday evening, the proceeds of which are to go toward purchasing equipment for the new athletic club which this organization has started. Since the cross-country run for the Grundy cup a great impetus toward athletics has been engendered, which was the object Mr. Grundy had in view when he donated the two silver gilt cups for competition. The Y. M. I. made a good showing on that occasion, Billy Hoops, one of its team, having carried off the smaller silver cup. The prize winners at this whist drive were as follows, in the order named: Ladies—Mrs. Venable, Josephine Pene, Mrs. Kane, Mrs. Cheinpy, Mrs. Efford, and Mrs. Edith Cook. Gentlemen—Mr. McLeod, Lawrence Harne, P. Tose, F. Allen, R. Efford, C. Silva, Tom Tose, and C. W. Hultberg.

CANDIDATE CHOSEN TO RUN FOR CITY TRUSTEE

At a meeting held in San Bruno last week to select a candidate to contest the seat on the city council held by A. S. W. Grundy, the unanimous choice of those assembled fell upon Emil Halter of Huntington Park. Mr. Halter's name will thus appear on the ballot at the "recall" election to be held November 18th. Mr. Halter has lived in San Bruno for nine years and is said to be a property owner in this town. For thirteen years he has held a foremanship in the plant of the American Steel and Wire Company at San Francisco. There seems every indication that Mr. Halter will prove a strong candidate.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAM ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne last Saturday entertained the winning Yeomen tug-of-war team, of which Mr. Osborne was captain. After a pleasant evening spent in games, whist and dancing, a bountiful supper was spread to which all did Yeomen service, the piece de resistance being in the shape of lemon pies. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ode Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig, Mr. and Mrs. Heintz, Mr. and Mrs. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Bolliger, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Lass, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Herman Steinbruck and his sister, Dorothy Steinbruck, Mrs. Ruzic, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Skellinger.

A BACKWARD AFFAIR.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen next Tuesday night, after the regular meeting has taken place, will give a backwards party, at which every one attending will be expected to have one or more articles of wearing apparel worn backwards. Failure to come so dressed will call for a fine of 25 cents, also everything done during the entertainment will be done backwards. Failure to do so will lead to a fine of 1 cent for every infraction of the rule. In eating, the plates will be used upside down and the knives and forks held in reverse of the regular order. Altogether the evening is expected to be a regular topsy turvy one.

LADIES' AID TO HOLD BAZAAR.

The Ladies' Aid of St. John's Evangelical Church is to give a bazaar in aid of the building fund for their contemplated church on November 4th and 5th at Carpenter's Hall, for which great preparations are being made. Our people will do well to keep one of these dates free so that they may attend, and so forward a much-needed and desirable civic improvement.

NEW DAUGHTER AT DICKSON HOME

Mrs. Tom Dickson gave birth to a little baby girl last Saturday at the Mills Memorial Hospital, San Mateo, Dr. F. Holmes Smith being the physician in attendance. Both mother and daughter are doing well.

THE JOLLY SIX.

The Jolly Six gave a very pleasant affair at Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liddle's hospitable home in Fourth Addition Saturday evening. It was literally "the wee, sma' hours" when they finally dispersed, after an evening spent in games, music and songs. Our people will, of course, want to know who exactly do form this unique constellation of jollity, and so we publish their names: Phil Clark, L. Barnett, A. P. Kirkwood, Bob Liddle, Bill Nerny, and N. Nasits.

YEOMEN PLAY WHIST.

Homestead No. 910, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, held its regular monthly whist party at Carpenter's Hall Tuesday night. Six useful and handsome prizes were offered on this occasion, the winners being: Ladies—First prize, Mrs. G. Manseu; second, Mrs. Stella Jacobsen; third, Mrs. William Mueller; men's—first, Charles Doyen; second, A. P. Kirkwood; third, G. A. Helmore.

LOCALS

Miss Rosine Nerny is up again, after an illness of some weeks.

Mrs. Joseph Bergman of Third Addition is home again, after being an inmate at the Mills Memorial Hospital for the past few weeks.

The Woodmen of the World are to give a masquerade ball during the coming month, the actual date for which, however, has not been definitely fixed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grady spent last Tuesday with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rider of Santa Cruz, the occasion being the ninth anniversary of Mrs. Rider's marriage.

Mrs. Charles Stevens of Sunnyvale, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Stevens, spent Thursday and Friday of last week with Dr. and Mrs. F. Holmes Smith. Mrs. C. Stevens is a sister of Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirkwood of Boston, Mass., are expecting to make their home in San Bruno in the near future. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Clark last Sunday at their hospitable home in Fourth Addition.

The San Bruno Lumber and Supply Company has been awarded the contract for the building material for an apartment house in Western Addition, San Francisco. This makes three or four contracts this enterprising firm has in hand in the city at the present time.

NATIONAL METHODIST CHURCH

RAMBLING about the so-called "old" section of our national capital one Sunday morning, my attention was attracted to a church which, outwardly, looked but little different than hundreds of other houses of worship which are scattered promiscuously across our broad land and are representative of numerous denominations of religious belief, except for its peculiarly slender and graceful spire.

Approaching this thus distinguished edifice, the air suddenly filled with colorful and pleasing tone, as, from up in the steeple, a chime of ten rare bells called the faithful to devotion.

Entering, I learned that this historic structure was none other than The National Methodist church. After service, I was told and shown how a former bishop and beloved worshipers had immensely enriched it and endeared its memory by unusual contributions collected on their travels in foreign lands.

For instance, some of the marble tiles in the vestibule were brought all the way from the ruins of Solomon's temple in Jerusalem; the keystone in the arch above the pulpit was carved from a stone carried from the ruins of the same far-off temple, and the beautiful pulpit and highly-polished altar rail are partially made from the logs of olive wood, transported from the Garden of Gethsemane and Mount of Olives. An ivy vine which tightly attached itself to the east wall of this old edifice was grown from a slip taken from the tomb of Martin Luther, at Wittenberg, Germany.

Presidents Grant and McKinley, Vice Presidents Colfax and Fairbanks, General John A. Logan and many other men prominent in the affairs of the nation, have worshiped at this shrine.

The brains of a bonehead are never valuable enough to protect that way.

There are men who are naturally such spendthrifts that they can't even keep counterfeit money.

A spoiled child naturally must expect a rotten deal from the world.

Where They Are.

"I've been thinking about a continued story I was reading in a magazine back in 1894," said the man with a prodigious memory. "I missed the last installment and never did learn how the story ended."

"You still have a chance to find out."

"How?"

"You'll probably be able to find a copy of the magazine you want in any doctor's waiting room."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Because Nature is not an alarmist, the same number of children keep on being born each year.

One Way of Doing It.

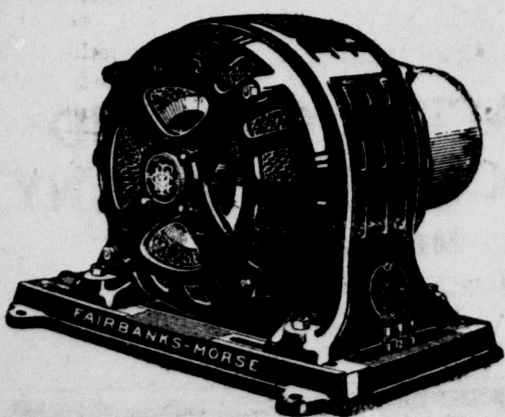

The doors of the new house had shrunk horribly, as is the way of the modern door made of unseasoned wood. The builder would not send the carpenter to repair them, so the householder tried the ironical method, and wrote:

DESTRUCTIVENESS?

How often have we heard a person say, "Oh, I only did that for fun." The fun which he has been having has often destroyed something.

Looking about the school we find the desks scarred, writing over the walls, water and ink splashed about the building. These things are spoiling the appearance of the school building. Recently we were told that we had one of the best school buildings in the state. If we wish to keep our building in a fine condition we must have the destroying of the building and furniture stopped.

These things might have been done only for fun, but what will become of these people after they have become men and women? Will they still do things for fun? Will they go down the streets and mark and destroy everything they can?

If we wish to become the right kind of citizens we must form good habits while we are young. Let us try and keep the school and grounds as neat in appearance as we possibly can. If we do not wish to hear people speak about the school building as becoming a disreputable-looking building, we must keep up its appearance. Let us have no more marring of desks, ink splashed on the walls and numerous other things that are not giving the right appearance to the building stopped.

SOUTH CITY VS. PALO ALTO.

South City played its second league game with Palo Alto Saturday at 10:30. Our boys were bucking a good team, and Palo Alto had to fight hard for their touchdowns. Charles Dunlap played a good game in spite of a broken tooth he received in the first part of the game. His tackling broke up many of their plays. He was right there when Palo Alto fumbled and picked up the ball for a forty-yard run to a touchdown. Elmer Vaccari played his usual good game. Luck was against us when Vaccari threw a forty-yard pass to Doak, who missed it. Although we were defeated, 40 to 6, we are still confident of beating Santa Clara this week.

S. S. F. TEAM TAKES GAME FROM SAN MATEO HIGH

Tuesday afternoon the 120-pound girls' basketball team played San Mateo High team.

The local team showed San Mateo its superiority by its good passing and team work.

A hard fight was put up by both teams. The local team did quick work and San Mateo failed to get the ball, which is shown by the score of 25-3 in favor of South San Francisco. The girls have been practicing hard and expect to keep up their well-earned reputation.

Those on the team were: Gertha Lane, Anna Carl, forwards; Rita Castro, Margaret Murray, guards; Captain Genevieve Schmidt, Isabel Silicani, centers; substitutes, Anna Boetto and Violet Hamilton.

The team deserves much praise for the game it played.

Times Are Changed.

Standing in the aisle of a crowded street car two colored youths engaged in conversation.

"An' he ain't runnin' no flivver no more."

"Ah'll say he ain't."

"An' you 'member dat twenty dollar gold piece he used to wear on his watch chain."

"Ah'll say I do."

Life is too short for long stories.

ALUMNI-HIGH SCHOOL GAME.

On Monday evening, October 24th, at 8 o'clock, a very exciting basketball game was played at the South San Francisco High School gym between the high school girls and the alumni.

Although the alumni had not had any practice together for team work, they played a very good game, but were defeated.

This game was certainly the best game ever played by the girls of this high school. They showed the right kind of spirit all through the game, and fought as hard as they knew how. The pass work was excellent and the baskets were made with deliberation and care.

There was no real star, because every girl had her whole heart and soul in the game.

The girls on the high school team were Zephia Dunlap and Silvia Thomas, forwards; Laura Baldini and Elizabeth Coffinberry, guards; Captain Rosalind Gsell and Marian Fischer, centers.

Those who played on the alumni team were Bernice Holbrook and Myrtle Mullin, forwards; Claire Foster and Bernice Farrell, guards; Mary Kauffmann and Alice Wallace, centers.

The boys also showed lots of pep, and with their yell leader, Alexis James, gave all the high school yells and songs, and this aroused the fighting school spirit in the team.

The high school girls won the game, the score being 48-20.

RUBBER INDUSTRY IN BRAZIL.

After the basket-ball game Monday evening, Mr. Holt of the science department gave an interesting lecture and showed a group of lantern slides on the rubber industry in Brazil. From these slides we learned that the rubber monopoly was taken away from Brazil by a man named Wickham, who smuggled the seeds from Brazil and took them into India, where he started rubber plantations.

These lantern slides are very interesting as well as educational, and it is hoped that every student will gain a live interest in them.

They were shown Monday noon for out-of-town students, and in the evening for those in town.

WHO WAS THE WISEST?

It was one of the freshman class who, meeting Mr. Adams, indulged in a joke. "Pretty near winter, Mr. Adams," he said jovially. "The trees are getting almost as white as you." "That's true," said Mr. Adams, surveying the elms thoughtfully. "Nature's wonderful. Spring will come, and then these trees will be almost as green as you."

No more was said, and each went his way.

DANCE POSTPONED.

The junior class has decided to postpone the annual "Junior Prom" until one week from Friday, November 4th. The change was made because of other attractions in town on or about the first-named date. Names for invitations are coming in thick and fast. The people whose names have been handed in will receive their invitations during the week. All students desiring invitations will please hand in the names immediately. Good music has been secured. Don't fail to be there.

Cold Storage.

It is a solid fact that a man should never apologize to a woman. Apologies, instead of softening women, harden them in their self-righteous conceit.

An old woman lay dying. Her husband, kneeling at the bedside, said brokenly:

"My love, all the harsh and unkind words I have ever used to you I now take back."

At this the old woman's brow darkened and in her weak voice she said: "No, you don't. I know you. You want to use them all over again in case I get well."—Boston Globe.

When a man's trying to deceive himself, he always thinks it necessary to make a lot of explanations to his friends.

SYNOPSIS OF SERMONS

(Episcopal)

At Grace Episcopal Church last Sunday the Rev. E. H. Molony preached on St. Luke the Physician. He said:

"St. Paul writing to Timothy as the hour of his execution drew nigh, said 'The good fight is fought, the race is run.' In his imprisonment, when Demas and others forsook him, he exclaimed, 'Only Luke is with me,' Luke, the beloved physician."

"The ministrations of the physician was gratefully received by the apostle suffering from ophthalmia, but the outstanding expression is gratitude for the ministrations of a beloved brother—Luke, the beloved physician. The greatest gift that all may exercise is love, Christian sympathy, charity."

"The Gospel of Luke gives his records of the healing ministry of Christ. The healing of the physician and the healing of Christ are in relation, differing only in degree. Scientific progress is as much of God as spiritual development."

"Faith is not of the believer alone any more than the merit of good works, both are the gift of God and not of yourselves."

"Jesus is the same. His touch still has its ancient potency and we may still approach Him in all need for salvation, which word itself means health and wholesomeness—being saved in body, mind and soul."

William Fred Foster will deliver an address at Grace Episcopal Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on the subject "The Great Love of God to This Workaday World."

(Methodist)

A DOZEN DON'TS FOR PARENTS.

A large audience greeted the Rev. C. L. Peck at St. Paul's M. E. Church last Sunday evening to hear his dozen don'ts for parents.

Next Sunday evening he will give a "dozen don'ts" for South San Francisco. He said in part as follows:

"The parents of today are the products of yesterday, and the homes of tomorrow will be the products of today."

"The home must be founded upon four fundamental principles: True love, intelligent marriage, love of home, and love of children. This home will not spring up in a day, but will be the product of discipline, prayer, and the help of God."

"The value we place upon our home and family will have much to do with the success of our lives, and those whom God has entrusted to our care."

"There are upward of fifteen million homes in the United States, and every one can be made happy by right living."

"Thus we suggest the following don'ts for parents:

"Don't fret and worry, for it is contagious."

"Don't try to put a round boy in a square hole, or, in other words, don't try to make a poor preacher out of a good lawyer."

"Don't expect your husband to be a model man until you are a model wife."

"Don't prevaricate to your children, and punish them for lying."

"Don't discourage your children; let them know you have confidence in them, and make them your constant companions."

"Don't be a Sunday saint and a week-day devil, but apply your religion to every-day life."

"Don't break a promise with a child, keep it inviolate, as nothing is more important to a child than the word of a parent."

"Don't punish a child when you are mad, or in the presence of company, but after meditation and prayer."

"Don't put the boys in the garret to sleep and give the girls the blue room, or let the girls thump the piano all day, and punish John for whistling 'Captain Jinks' when he comes in the house."

house.

"Don't expect more of your neighbors' children than you do of your own."

"Don't let your automobile keep you and your family from Sunday school and church, and take your lunch with you when you visit your country cousin Sunday afternoon."

"Don't furnish trashy literature for your home, as the best is none too good."

"Begin the day with family prayer."

A Privileged Character.

A teacher was trying to illustrate the outcome of laziness and idleness. She drew a terrible picture of the habitual loafer, the man who hates work, and his ultimate fate.

"Now, Johnnie," she said to a little boy who had been looking out of the window, and whose mind was far from the lesson of the hour, "tell me who is the wretched, miserable individual who gets clothes, food and lodging and gives nothing in return?"

Johnnie's face glowed. "Please, miss," he replied, "the baby!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

The Last Straw.

How can one tell when he has money enough? Is there any simple test that may be applied, any chemical combination of events or incidents that will give the reaction of "enough" in the matter of wealth? There is. If a man refuses to chase his new straw hat down the street in a high wind, then he is rich enough.—Minneapolis Journal.

A careful man thinks of his "gas" before he starts to drive. Also he considers his "gas" before he starts to talk.

If everybody who advises thrift were to practice thrift, poverty would be reduced to less than one-half of one per cent.

You may be able to drive your employees, but your methods won't work when you try to drive a balky automobile.

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

It is seldom that the average newspaper boosts its own business, but gives quantities of space in boosting the affairs of others.

Somebody suggested that it was time for the newspapers of the country to adopt a week in which their own business should be given precedent, and The Enterprise thoroughly endorses the idea.

The date set is the second week in November, from the 7th to the 12th, including that great world event, Armistice Day.

The official title for the week will be "Subscribe for Your Home-Town Paper Week."

Thousands of papers will join in this event, and our readers will hear more about it as time goes on.

Ever ready to help in any cause that is in the interests of a better community, better living conditions, and better government, we now ask the readers and advertisers of The Enterprise to turn in and lend a hand during "Subscribe for Your Home-Town Paper Week," and boost for us. An announcement of the greatest interest in connection with this matter will appear in an early issue of this paper.

Woman's World

PRACTICAL RECIPES

USE FIRELESS COOKER IN RAISING BREAD DOUGH

In very warm or very cold weather it is often difficult to maintain an even temperature in which to allow a bread dough to rise. If a sponge is set at night, it should be kept at ordinary room temperature (60 to 75 degrees F.), depending on how long it is to stand. Whenever a dough has been prepared (as distinguished from a sponge), the temperature should be fairly warm—between 80 and 86 degrees F. A good way to assure an even temperature in either case, it is suggested, is to set the sponge or dough in the fireless cooker, using a thermometer to start with, to determine the temperature when the dough or sponge is put in.

A WELL-ARRANGED CLOSET MAKES CLEANING EASIER

For generations housekeepers have taken pride in their orderly linen closets, well-stocked preserve and jelly closets, and their neat kitchen cupboards. While not so attractive to look at, the cleaning closet is just as important. By grouping together brooms, brushes, dusters, mops, and all the many things needed in cleaning, and keeping the closet in order, the housekeeper need not waste time or take extra steps in collecting these things when she wants to use them. It is a more sanitary and tidy practice to store cleaning tools in a place by themselves than to leave them in a corner of the kitchen or pantry, as is often done.

The cleaning closet should be convenient to the whole house. Sometimes, especially in large houses, a good arrangement is to have a cleaning closet on each floor with a supply of the things most frequently used. If a built-in closet is not available, an old wardrobe may be fitted up. Sometimes the cleaning closet opens off the back hall or the combination laundry and washroom, which is found an almost indispensable room in many farmhouses. This, also, is a good place for it.

The cleaning closet should be ventilated by cutting holes in the door or by means of a transom. Shelves should be arranged for the cans and bottles of cleaning materials and other small articles, and there should be plenty of hooks at proper heights for brushes, brooms, and mops. These should be hung so that the weight does not rest on the straws, bristles, or strings. The carpet sweeper, also, should be set or hung so that the weight does not come on the brushes.

Good Tools Most Economical.

Well-made, durable tools are generally most economical in the end, though they may cost more at the outset. It is well, of course, to have a complete set of tools and materials for cleaning the many kinds of materials in the house, but this does not mean that a large collection should be bought haphazard. Some cleaning devices will not be used often enough in the ordinary house to justify their expense or the storage room they occupy, and the housekeeper will do well to consider these points before buying.

The oily cloths used in polishing floors and furniture, especially if moistened with linseed oil, are a serious fire hazard unless kept in a covered fireproof container. A tin or galvanized-iron can with close-fitting lid is good for this purpose.

Tools last longer and work better if put back in the closet clean and ready for use the next time.

Care of Various Kinds of Mops

Once a week or oftener if necessary the box of the carpet sweeper should be opened over dampened newspaper, the dirt emptied out, and hair and lint cleaned from the brushes with a buttonhook, coarse comb, or old scissors. The mechanism should be kept properly oiled. A vacuum cleaner should be looked after in the same manner, except that in addition the bag should be emptied.

Dry or oiled mops should be well shaken each time after use, and occasionally should be washed in hot soapsuds, rinsed in clear hot water, and dried as quickly as possible. Oiled mops may be renewed by pouring on a few drops of kerosene or floor oil and letting them stand until the oil spreads through the strings. If too much oil is used, the floors will be darkened, and a surplus of oil will be left on the surface.

Dust cloths should be washed frequently, because a little dirt comes out more easily and because dirty cloths often leave as much dust as they take up and may scratch highly polished surfaces. The oil in "dustless" cloths may be restored by adding to the rinse water a little kerosene or floor oil (about one tablespoon to a quart of water), or by pouring a few drops of oil on the dry duster, rolling it tight, and letting it stand until the oil spreads evenly.

Housecleaning often seems a hard task and it pays to plan the work carefully and to keep the home clean rather than labor to make it clean.

HOME-MADE FLOOR OILS.

One part boiled linseed oil thinned with three parts turpentine makes an excellent floor oil, the United States Department of Agriculture finds, while one part light motor or engine oil combined with four parts kerosene gives results similar to commercial kinds. The motor oil recommended must not be confused with the heavy, less highly refined kinds that contain a dark sediment.

HALF-SOLING SHOES AT HOME SAVES REPAIR COST

When the soles of a pair of shoes have worn through or begin to wear thin they should be repaired immediately. Any one can learn to do this at home, says the United States Department of Agriculture. In preparing the shoe to be half-soled a few simple tools are needed. The important ones are: Shoe last, hammer, box of clinch nails, a sharp knife, and a burnisher. These may be purchased at any hardware store. The size of the nails to be used will be determined by the thickness of the sole leather. The nails should be long enough to clinch the inner sole. Sole leather may be purchased in one piece to be cut up as needed or in the form of half soles.

Remove the old sole with a slanting cut across the instep so that the inside edge of the new sole will be shorter. Place the leather to be used in warm water for a few minutes until it becomes pliable and will fit snugly against the shoe. Cut it roughly into shape. With a knife pare a bevel on the edge that fits against the instep. The bevel should be on the flesh side of the leather. Place the flesh side of the leather against the shoe and insert a tack in the center of the toe to hold the leather in place so that it may be tacked.

With the shoe on the last, begin to tack from the instep toward the toe, tacking first on one edge and then on the other. Place tacks about one-fourth inch apart and approximately one-fourth inch from the outer edge of the sole of the shoe. This may vary somewhat in different shoes, but the tacks should be placed so that they will clinch on the edge of the inner sole. With a knife trim even with old welt. Hold the knife in the hand with a blade projecting beyond the index finger so that it will cut the sole but not the vamp. Smooth the edge of the new leather against the old leather with an iron burnisher. Black the edge with shoe polish and use burnisher as before. This will leave the half sole smooth and close fitting.

Auto Intoxication.

"You discharged your new salesman?"

"Yes. He's not suited for the automobile business."

"How's that?"

"He tried to sell a $7000 car to a school teacher."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

It Needed Rest.

"What did the doctor say?" asked her husband.

"Not much. He asked me to put out my tongue."

"Yes?"

"And he said, 'Overworked.'"

"Ah! Then you'll have to give it a rest, my dear. The doctor knows his business."—Edinburg Scotsman.

An automobile wreck is so common nowadays that it doesn't often get into print unless it also wrecks a family.

Fred Chilcott, one of the Redwood City's best-known business men, returned to the South San Francisco Hospital this week for further treatment for a severe case of blood poisoning in his leg. Mr. Chilcott recently spent several weeks in the hospital here under care of Dr. F. S. Dolley for the same cause. The trouble started from a slight abrasion of the skin of his foot, and his case has proven one of the most stubborn ever treated at the local hospital. Skin will be grafted on the wound.
